Japan Papers Eulogize Late President

TOKIO, Aug. 4.—The Japanese generally have printed feeling eulogies of the late President Warren G. Harding.

Papers for the most part refer particularly to the Washington conference as his greatest work, terming it one of the greatest contributions to modern civilization.

The press speculated as to political developments in America. Interest in this subject was nation-wide.

Imperial condolence is being sent while many prominent Japanese are wiring their sympathy.

Coolidge's First Proclamation Calls For Services For Dead Chief

(By United Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—President Coolidge in his first proclamation today declared Friday, August 10, a day of national mourning for the late President Warren G. Harding.

On that day, he said, the people are invited to gather in their respective places of worship and hold ceremonies befitting the occasion.

It was also ordered that all executive offices of the government would be closed at 1 p. m. next Tuesday and remain closed Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The proclamation said:

President's Proclamation
By the President of the United States of America, a proclamation: "To the people of the United States:

"In the inscrutable wisdom of Divine Providence, Warren Gamaliel Harding, twenty-ninth president of the United States, has been taken from us. The nation has lost a wise and enlightened statesman and the American people a true friend and counsellor whose whole public life was inspired with the desire to promote the best interests of the United States and the welfare of all its citizens. His private life was marked by gentleness and charm of his personality he made friends of all who came in contact with him.

"It is meet that the deep grief which fills the hearts of the American people should find fitting expression.

Day of Mourning
"Now, therefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, president of the United States of America, do appoint Friday, next, August tenth, the day on which the body of the dead president will be laid in its last earthly resting place, as a day of mourning and prayer throughout the United States, and earnestly recommend the people to assemble on that day in their respective places of Divine worship, there to bow down in submission to the will of Almighty God and to pay out of full hearts the homage and love and reverence worthy of the great and good president whose death has so sorely smitten the nation.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Dated the City of Washington, the fourth day of August in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, and of the Independence of the United States, the one hundred and forty-eighth.

Wednesday.
10 a. m. the official funeral cortège will leave the White House for the capitol.

10:30 a. m. a short funeral service will be conducted at the capitol by Rev. Freeman Anderson, acting pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, assisted by Rev. James S. Montgomery, chaplain of the house of representatives.

11 a. m. the body will lie in state in the rotunda where the people may file by to view the president in death.

6 p. m. the doors of the capitol will be closed and arrangements concluded to take the body to the White House when it arrives here.

Aged Father of Coolidge Stays On Farm As Son Assumes Office

PLYMOUTH, Vermont, Aug. 4.—An aged New England farmer in blue shirt and patched trousers is putting around the house of his old Green Mountain farm here today while down in Washington his son sits in the chair of the president of the United States.

Old John Coolidge—he's 78 now—is "getting things straightened out" to go back to his old home in Massachusetts.

"Course I'm glad Cal has met success," he said, "but I'm sorry that the death of Mr. Harding had to be."

"Cal always has been a good boy and he deserves credit."

Mr. Coolidge, sr., was the first one down the steps when W. A. Perkins, the telephone man from Bridgewater pounded on the door at midnight and informed him President Harding had died. He was in night shirt and bare footed, but after he had told "Cal and Grace" about it he went back and put on his shirt and pants. He was the first to greet his son as president.

It was in this regalia, with the addition of a coat, that he administered the oath of office, nearly three hours later over the family Bible.

The president's father doesn't care much about clothes and does not believe a man should shave every day to keep up his reputation. He is quiet like his son and talks little. He isn't used to all the hurly-burly activity which has been going on the last few days. He was glad to get the telephone out of the house because it was always bothering him.

"I guess maybe I'll go down to see Cal," he said. "Yes, in Washington. Yes, I'd like to see all the White House. Yes, I guess maybe I'll go down some day."

"This is your government," he said in effect. "The press can express the policies which he (President Harding) had begun for the services of the American people and for meeting their responsibilities whenever they may arise."

When the president was asked whether he would give the regular semi-weekly press conference, the same as Mr. Harding, he replied that he would and that the executive offices would be open at all times to newspapermen as representatives of public.

"This is your government," he said in effect. "The press can express the policies which he (President Harding) had begun for the services of the American people and for meeting their responsibilities whenever they may arise."

Realizing the "policy angle" of the conference, Mr. Coolidge first made the announcement that there would be no change in policies. In that connection also he stood by the statement made in Vermont, which referred to this question in these words:

Repeats Statement.

"It will be my purpose to carry out the policies which he (President Harding) had begun for the services of the American people and for meeting their responsibilities whenever they may arise."

TO EXPECTANT MOTHERS

A Letter from Mrs. Ward Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Springfield, Ohio.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved a splendid medicine for me before my fourth child was born. With the first three I had been sick and weak, and had sick headaches twice a week. I couldn't keep enough food down to do me any good, and my work was left undone many a time. My sister-in-law told me to take the Vegetable Compound when I began to have the same old dreadful sickness and headaches and was so worn out. Since then I have only had two headaches, had a good appetite and scarcely lost a meal. I have a fine, healthy baby girl who has never had a sick day. The nicest part is that I am healthy, too. It did me a lot of good, and if I should ever have another baby I will take your medicine at once."—Mrs. BESSIE WARD, 1027 Park Avenue, Springfield, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers, and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire system.

AUG. 10 SET FOR DAY OF MOURNING

Tuesday.

The state funeral will take place on Wednesday when the body of Mr. Harding will be taken down Pennsylvania avenue, where he rode a little more than two years ago for his inaugural, to the capitol, where it will lie in state in the great rotunda.

The display that goes with the funeral of a chief of state will be seen when the cortege moves from the White House to the capitol. There will be a military band playing the funeral march and an escort of soldiers, pacing slowly.

Services at Capitol

Members of the supreme court, congressmen, diplomats and representatives of every phase of Washington's official life will be in the procession, according to the plans which were announced shortly after Mr. Coolidge reached Washington.

At the capitol the catafalque will be placed beneath the great dome in the rotunda where others of the nation's dead have lain in solemn state. Soldiers and sailors, arms grounded, heads bowed, will stand on guard around the casket. After the funeral services, the people will be admitted to pay their last respects to the dead president and to lay wreaths beside him.

Then at six p. m. the body will be removed to the funeral train and started for Marion, Ohio, for interment.

WILL CONTINUE POLICIES OF HARDING

Exercise a great, helpful influence over the administration of it." He expects helpful co-operation, the president said.

No cabinet meetings have been planned as the members are scattered many miles from Washington and the president does not desire to interfere with any arrangements they have made unless there is a real necessity for it.

As the president talked, Secretary of the Navy Denby stood at his right shoulder. He returned this morning from Michigan. Secret service men stood at the door and identified members of the press before they were admitted.

The president's keen blue-eyed gaze was directed straight at every questioner as he replied. There was not a flicker of emotion on his face at any time until the strain of the interrogation was over; then he began smiling and greeting those whom he knew personally.

Written Down Questions.

His voice was low and he replied to each question in as few words as possible. Occasionally he paused a moment and looked at the floor as if meditating before replying. He kept a record of every question and answer and when the question was asked a second time he merely referred the interrogator to his previous reply.

Among the messages the president perused when he opened his mail and telegrams this morning were cablegrams from President Millerand of France, the premier of Porto Rico, Alvarez of Cuba, King Fuad of Egypt, King Albert of Belgium, King Alfonso of Spain, President Porras of Panama, President Lequia of Peru and the president of Liberia.

They all offered condolences on the death of Mr. Harding and extended best wishes to the Coolidge administration.

Visits Old Offices

The president returned to the temporary White House after spending about an hour at his old office as vice-president.

Mr. Coolidge then went through the strain of sitting for about twelve poses for the photographers, who took flashlight pictures of him.

The president was greeted in his office by Senator Fletcher, Democrat, of Florida.

President Coolidge today authorized Lieutenant Colonel Sherill, his military aide, to direct that Colonel F. P. Lahm and Lieutenant Edward M. Taylor go to Marion, Ohio, to make all necessary arrangements for the burial of the late President Harding. Lieutenant Colonel Sherill was well known personally to the Hardings, having formerly been a reporter on the Marion Star, the late president's newspaper.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE EXTENDS SYMPATHY

The Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, represented at a special meeting of its board of directors late yesterday, extended a message of sympathy today to Mrs. E. Reinsberg, of this city, in the loss of her brother, President Harding. The message said:

"Words of consolation from the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce to a bereaved sister:

"In this sad hour in your home, while a nation mourns and the countries of all the world stand appalled at our loss, we, the members of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, extend to you our deepest sympathy and both collectively and individually pledge you our sincere compassion. When the heart is full of sorrow, words have little meaning, and with this thought in mind, we tender our loving sympathy in few words."

'POSSUM TAKES LEAVE ON EVE OF DISASTER

Earl Lentz, night desk sergeant at the police station here, was lost in unhappy contemplation of the future. Yesterday his face was wreathed in smiles. His tongue licked his lips in anticipation of a dinner of opossum and yams, southern style, as has been remarked before.

It was but a few days ago that the opossum, apparently without guile, wandered into the city hall and into the open arms of the night officer.

Lentz took it home, and, with the help of his son and a few neighborhood boys, parked the opossum in a chicken coop there to fatten.

At the capitol the catafalque will be placed beneath the great dome in the rotunda where others of the nation's dead have lain in solemn state. Soldiers and sailors, arms grounded, heads bowed, will stand on guard around the casket. After the funeral services, the people will be admitted to pay their last respects to the dead president and to lay wreaths beside him.

But cures rent the dawn. The opossum was not content with carrots and the previously-mentioned delicacies. It was of wire-eating caliber. It had eaten a hole through the chicken coop, and had Planned 'Farm'

"I wouldn't have felt so bad," Lentz remarked sorrowfully, "but during the night I had had the brilliant inspiration of entering into negotiations with Dr. John McAuley to start an opossum farm."

Dr. McAuley, you will remember, found a new-born family of opossums in the basement of his home recently. With my absent opossum and the doctor's opossum and her five young ones, we would have had the beginning of a splendid herd.

"Every policeman has the ambition, either expressed or repressed, that someday he will retire to a little chicken ranch or something like that. Why not an opossum farm?"

"But now such dreams are vain."

Taking his "pea-shooter," which looks like a stray bit of artillery from a dreadnaught, Lentz took his chagrin home.

COAST BUYERS TO MEET IN BAY CITY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Representing a buying power over the Western states of $2,000,000,000 annually, the purchasing agents from the principal coast cities and as far east as Salt Lake, are planning to attend a convention to be held in this city September 27 to September 30, under the auspices of the Purchasing Agents' Association of Northern California.

In order properly to entertain this body of buyers, business men of San Francisco, with the support of the Chamber of Commerce, have organized a San Francisco merchants' and manufacturers' ways and means committee, with H. M. Howard of the Pacific Foundry company as general chairman, and H. S. Hubbard of the Schwabacher-Friedman company as chairman of the finance committee.

Ralph W. Myers of the Hobbs-Wall company was named chairman for the Purchasing Agents' Association, in charge of arrangements for the convention, with H. F. Feagans, purchasing agent of the Sperry Flour company, as chairman of the program committee for the convention. A. H. Silvestroni, purchasing agent for the Paraffine Companies, Inc., is president of the Northern California association.

The president was greeted in his office by Senator Fletcher, Democrat, of Florida.

Sisters of Harding Reach Marion, Ohio

MARION, Ohio, Aug. 4.—Two sisters of the late president, Miss Abigail Harding and Mrs. H. Y. Votaw, accompanied by the latter's husband, arrived here this afternoon from Washington.

They went immediately to the home of Dr. George T. Harding, their father.

According to present plans, Miss Harding and Mrs. Votaw will remain here with other relatives until the arrival of the body next Thursday.

keep fighting her grief, still too much in the public eye to be allowed to go away by herself with her sorrow.

It was impossible for Mrs. Harding to rest as she needs to rest. Her nerves are too unstrung for quiet sleep, her heart throbbing painfully to the new wound to permit her the repose that she should have. But her spirit was unbroken, her poise unimpaired. Mrs. Harding gives new evidence almost every hour of the magnificence of her courage.

Other members of the party, worn out with grief and loss of sleep, rested today.

Shows Quiet Courage

It was the calm courage of Mrs. Harding—a quiet, steady-going courage that contained no hint of heroics—that caused all arrangements for the first simple funeral services and for removal of the president's body from the hotel suite in San Francisco to the train, to run as smoothly as the dignity of Mr. Harding's wife and his countrymen would have wished.

Through all the trying time since she awoke from an exhausted sleep into which she finally sank after midnight on the night the president died, Mrs. Harding "saw it through." It was her calm self-control that made it possible for the others to play their parts in the hurried arrangements for departure without having to worry about how the president's wife would act. She herself directed the arrangements for the funeral services at the Palace hotel.

Her quiet thoughtfulness made things wonderfully easy for those who would have been considerate of her.

The doctors and nurses who attended her awakening marvelled at the will with which she came back to the world from which her husband had suddenly been taken and arose and dressed and set about the necessary planning for the services.

On the arm of George Christian, who had been President Harding's secretary, the late executive's wife entered the sunlit parlor where the little party had gathered late yesterday afternoon to pray for their friend who lay in the simple rosewood coffin with his draping of flags.

Wears Simple Black Dress

Mrs. Harding was in mourning, but not an over-emphasized mourning—just a simple black dress and black hat with a wide brim. Her face was repose. She stood upright while the clergyman's voice went on—"man that is born of woman."

It was when the prayer began that Mrs. Harding's emotion first made itself visible; tears welled in her eyes, but Mrs. Christian slipped quickly to her side and took her hand and there was no break in the service. A minute later Mrs. Harding had herself completely in control.

The secret of Mrs. Harding's marvelous display of thoughtfulness for others in her hour of trial and of indomitable courage through her grief, was pride in her husband, friends said. Several times during the day she went with women friends, the president's sister and others, to look at the remains of the late executive as they lay in the coffin.

Mrs. Harding commented to her friends upon how firm and peaceful were her husband's features in death, and on the fact that the mouth displayed no vacillation.

She was proud of his record and of him as a man and she was trying to carry on in the trying period as he would have wanted her to.

Extreme Simplicity

The extreme simplicity of the coffin, the services and the ceremonies necessarily incidental to moving the remains to the railroad station, everything, by Mrs. Harding's orders, were simple, as the president would have wished.

In this, as in everything else that they all offered

Bonds Are Sold For New Fire Apparatus

TULARE, Aug. 4.—Through the sales of bonds to the Bank of Italy the last obstacle to installation of modern fire-fighting equipment was removed by the city of Tulare. The money will be used to purchase a chemical and pumper, for erection of a firehouse, to install a fire alarm system and remodel the city hall.

Bids will be called by the city council on the various projects. Grades were also set on the "L" street paving contract of eight blocks to cost $58,000. This work was recently halted by an injunction which charged that the grades had not been set.

Mrs. Manuela Budrow, Mrs. Olmae Enlow Matthews, Miss Holly Lash, Mrs. Violet Nedderson, Leon Eckles and Earl Fraser, Mine, Budrow, Mrs. Matthews, Miss Lash, and Messrs. Eckles and Fraser, vocal numbers. Mrs. Matthews the violinist, and Mrs. Nedderson, pianist, will contribute the instrumental portion of the anniversary program.

Tuning in on KFAW Monday night assures a wonderful radio entertainment.

Refuses New Trial Motion In $28,500 Award Damage Suit

Motion for a new trial of three damage suits brought by Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lloyd and their two daughters, Margaret and Helen, against the Boulevard Express company, today was denied by Acting Judge H. J. Forgy, who presided over the trial recently in the superior court here, where the Lloyds were awarded damages aggregating $28,500.

Attorneys Z. B. West Jr. and A. E. Koepsel, representing the plaintiffs, opposed the motion, which was argued by Attorney Kidd of Kidd & Hardy, Los Angeles, attorneys, representing the defense.

The claims against the defendant company were the result of a collision on the state highway near Irvine last summer, when Mrs. Lloyd and her daughters were injured.

The defendant's appeal from judgment is pending.

News Briefs

The Department of Public Works of California has applied to the railroad commission for an order authorizing the construction of a state highway at grade over the tracks of the Pacific Electric railway company near Fifth street, Seal Beach, according to word received here today.

The large picture of President Harding in the rooms of the Newport Harbor Yacht club, of which the dead executive was an honorary member, today was draped in crepe. Speed boat races, planned for the week-end, have been cancelled, it was learned.

Carpenters are enlarging the temporary church structure of St. Ann's Catholic parish, J. Ogden Mukel, who is directing the work, announced today. A stage and dressing room to be used in preparation of entertainments are included in the enlargement program.

Mass will be said at the new church at 7 and 9 a.m. tomorrow. Weekday masses will be held at 8 a.m. at the parish house, 1239 Orange avenue.

Seven building permits have been issued this month to date for $18,025 in new building, making a total for the year of 951 permits for $3,355,528 in new building, according to records of W. S. Decker, building inspector.

A. M. Stanley, secretary-manager of the Orange county farm bureau, already has swung into details of the bureau work although he has been here but a few days. He made an expedition to San Bernardino yesterday as a committee member to investigate certain phases of marketing practiced there. Organization of the poultry department of the bureau came to his attention today.

Organization of the farm advisors and horticultural commissioners of the seven Southern California counties was completed at a meeting held at Pomona yesterday, according to a report made here today by H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor. A. A. Brock, Orange county horticultural commissioner, was elected chairman and Wahlberg was elected secretary of the organization. Meetings were scheduled to be held quarterly.

HUNT OIL FOREMAN ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Chip Day, foreman for the Associated Oil company of a pumping station at Huntington Beach, was being sought by the authorities today on a charge that he assaulted E. Daish, an employee of the company, with a deadly weapon.

According to information given Deputy District Attorney D. G. Wetlin by Daish, the alleged attack, in which Day was said to have fired two pistol shots at Daish, was the outcome of an altercation several hours previous to the asserted shooting late yesterday.

It was said that the foreman after the alleged attack, hurried away leaving Daish in possession of the premises. Day had not reappeared at last reports. Wetlin

Master Keys Taken From School Here

A burglarious entry was made into the Washington school during the last week of July, according to report by Dr. Roy S. Horton, member of the board of education, on file today at police headquarters. Investigation found entrance had been made through a window. A bunch of master keys was the only thing of value missing, the report said.

Report was made yesterday that the Jefferson street school had been entered and a number of keys removed from the building. Police believe boys responsible for the burglaries.

FOREIGN PRESS IN PRAISE OF DEAD CHIEF

LONDON, Aug. 4.—High praise for President Harding was expressed by London newspapers in editorials on his death.

"He was a political leader of great force and personality," said the Pall Mall Gazette. "The difference between the respective interests of America and Britain served to emphasize his personal tact and good will. His term of office was made permanently memorable by the disarmament conference which is an encouraging example of what may be accomplished by genuine will to peace."

The evening Standard said: "Few chief magistrates of the United States have won more completely the regard of the British people. Although he cannot be numbered among the great presidents, Harding will occupy a high place among the useful ones."

"We take pride in the fact that the first journalist to attain the presidency did nothing in office to reflect unworthily upon his profession and ours," said the Evening Star. "The disarmament conference was his greatest triumph, not only because of the benefits of armament reduction but also because it marked the end of the Japanese-Anglo alliance, upon which the United States always looked with suspicion."

CLAIM HARDING WAS FRIEND OF FRANCE.
PARIS, Aug. 4.—The Paris press expressed deep regret at the death of President Harding, calling him a friend of France.

"We regret the disappearance of a great friend of France," said the Midi.

"Mr. Harding was a man of great courage and uncommon political honesty," said L'Information. "He showed himself a fervent friend of our country and his death can only cause the deepest regrets here as in the United States."

Wilson Message to Widow Kept Secret

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Woodrow Wilson today dispatched a message of sympathy to the widow of President Harding. An army of reporters besieged the Wilson home in S street in an effort to secure a public statement on the death of Mr. Harding but Mr. Wilson chose to send his word of condolence direct to Mrs. Harding. His message was not made public here.

Word of the passing of President Harding was given to Mr. Wilson early today. An effort made by him to keep the news from him until he arose this morning was unsuccessful.

FRANCE SENDS MESSAGE OF SYMPATHY

PARIS, Aug. 3.—France bows in deepest sympathy with the United States in the loss of President Harding. Premier Poincaré declared in an official statement,

"Only yesterday," the statement said, "the world greeted the noble words of President Harding in what constitutes a magnificent last testament, wherein he advised the United States to participate in a World Court and outlined the essential conditions."

Poincaré cabled Secretary Hughes:

"We are deeply struck by the cruel loss the United States has suffered and are anxious to assure you of the deeply moved sympathy of the French government. President Harding appeared not only as a great figure, qualified to be chief of a nation to which so many bonds attached us but also as a generous, clear-sighted friend whom the French people learned to love and respect. The whole of France associates itself in mourning."

Two Women Theft Suspects Arrested

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Two young women and a man were injured when the automobile in which they were riding on the main drive of Golden Gate Park, struck a stump and overturned.

The injured:

Miss Grace Harris, 25, 930 Hayes street, abrasions and contusions of the head and body.

Miss Charlotte Hill, 1703 Geary street, abrasions and contusions of head and body.

E. A. Lehman, Statler Hotel, cuts and bruises of the head.

Lehman was driving, according to the police, and drove over the edge of the road, striking the stump. Passing motorists took the trio to the Park Emergency hospital, where they were treated.

Tires Blow Out, Late Juror Excused

MARYSVILLE, Aug. 4.—When is a juror not in contempt of court although half an hour late at a trial? When he has a punctured tire, declares Judge K. S. Mahon of Sutter county, who was sitting in a damage suit in the Superior Court here.

Clifton E. Hunter's intentions were good but he had a fourteen mile drive to make. To make matters worse he had a puncture. Then he had another. To make matters worse he had a third. He came in on the rims of his auto, told the Judge his trouble and was excused, for Judge Mohan knows something about automobiling himself.

ORANGES ARE QUIET ON EASTERN MARKET

FINANCIAL COMMENT

Short Talks on Current Events of Interest to Investors

By James Wilbur

Best Fruit Still In Demand But Orchard Run Classes Are Dull

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4 (Office of the Fruit World).—The market on California Valencia oranges has been very quiet during the past week. The best fruit of popular sizes has met with a good demand and the prices for same have ranged around $5 and better, but orchard-run fruit and the small, undesirable sizes, are finding a soft market. Such fruit forms a large part of the shipments. Nevertheless the orange market has been holding up remarkably well when it is realized that the volume of shipments of citrus and deciduous fruits between two and three times as great as those of last season.

Expect Huge Crop

F. o. b. California quotations on fancy Valencia oranges range from $3.25 to $3.40 per box, depending on size and district.

Cash quotations are not very much in evidence.

Hot weather in July has apparently had no serious effect on the new crop of oranges in either Southern or Central California. Tulare county reports that from present indications they should expect one of the largest crops in years.

Lemons in Demand

A good demand for California lemons exists in all markets.

F. o. b. California quotations are from 50 cents to a dollar higher than those of last week.

The range is from $6 to $7.

There are on hand and available for sale at all United States ports within the next thirty days approximately 134 cars of foreign lemons. This compares with the corresponding period of former years as follows: Year 1922, 152 cars; 1921, 188 cars; 1920, 349 cars; 1919, 230 cars.

Shipments for the week were as follows:

MAIN STREET" OPENS AT WEST END TOMORROW

"Main Street," the screen adaptation of Sinclair Lewis' novel of small town life and manners, will be shown at the West End theater beginning tomorrow.

Alfred Lunt and Mimi Palmer, the two discoveries of the screen, are coming to the Yost theater tomorrow only in Harold MacGrath's wonderful story of China and the South Seas, "The Ragged Edge." Alfred Lunt, known as one of the handsomest actors in America, is heralded as a new idol of the silver sheet. With him is the beautiful Mimi Palmer, whose transition from fashion model to movie star-dom is one of the most talked-of events of the year.

The story is that of "two young fools." Their adventures in the old city of Canton, China, and subsequently in the South Sea Islands are as swiftly moving as any you have ever seen. The two people are runaways who are cast together; one saves the other from "The Ragged Edge," and brings her to herself the joys of an everlasting love and devotion.

"THE RAGGED EDGE" AT YOST TOMORROW

Alfred Lunt and Mimi Palmer, the two discoveries of the screen, are coming to the Yost theater tomorrow only in Harold MacGrath's wonderful story of China and the South Seas, "The Ragged Edge."

Alfred Lunt, known as one of the handsomest actors in America, is heralded as a new idol of the silver sheet. With him is the beautiful Mimi Palmer, whose transition from fashion model to movie star-dom is one of the most talked-of events of the year.

Public Stenographer, Hotel Cooper.

Reports which were received locally told of the enthusiastic reception accorded this production by prominent critics of the New York papers. It must be confessed that for once the advance reports were found to be justified.

"Her Accidental Husband" is a credit to its producer, its director, and its stars. The action of the story has a present-day background and deals with the unique idea of a girl marrying a man because she hates him.

The cast, described as all-star, lives up to this description. It contains Marian Cooper, Forrest Stanley, Mitchell Lewis, Richard Tucker, Maude Wayne and Kate Lester.

A rearning comedy hit—all about blushing brides and over-confident husbands and gay elopement that almost annulled every marriage in town. Come and laugh!

"SKID PROOF" CLOSES AT WEST END TONIGHT

As Jack Darwin, the irresistible racing madcap in "Skid Proof," the photoplay which closes at the West End tonight, Charles Jones encounters death in a multitude of forms and phases.

He dashes along the ground, sweeps in the air, all against sickening odds. He renounces a brilliant future as a movie actor because of his love for Nadine, a role beautifully interpreted by Lura Anson. His luck is of the blackest dye, his money given out. He is tempted with a bribe—a great sum of money is offered in exchange for his honor.

GARETH HUGHES IN CAST OF "PENROD AND SAM"

Gareth Hughes, one of the most popular juveniles on the screen, plays the part of Robert Williams, Sam Williams' older brother, in "Penrod and Sam," the picture which closes its engagement at the Yost theater tonight.

Hughes is Welsh and when he looks back over his stage and screen career it seems to him as if he were born acting. He played in fourteen or more Broadway successes before going into films. His most notable successes for picture were in "Sentimental Tommy," "Eyes of Youth," "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" and "Little Eva Ascends."

Filming of "Clipped Wings," starring Constance Binney, has begun.

"SLANDER THE WOMAN" AT YOST MONDAY

"Slander the Woman," starring Dorothy Phillips, which will be shown at the Yost theater Monday and Tuesday, is one of the strongest indictments of gossips and gossiping that has ever been produced.

When it was first selected as Miss Phillips' starring vehicle, it was not picked because it portrayed one of the principal evils which confronts society today. Rather, it was selected because it permitted an excellent opportunity for Miss Phillips to display her rare emotional qualities. However, the indictment of gossiping was already in the script when it reached Director Holubar's hands, and he has taken advantage of every opportunity to show what idle tongues can do to a woman's reputation.

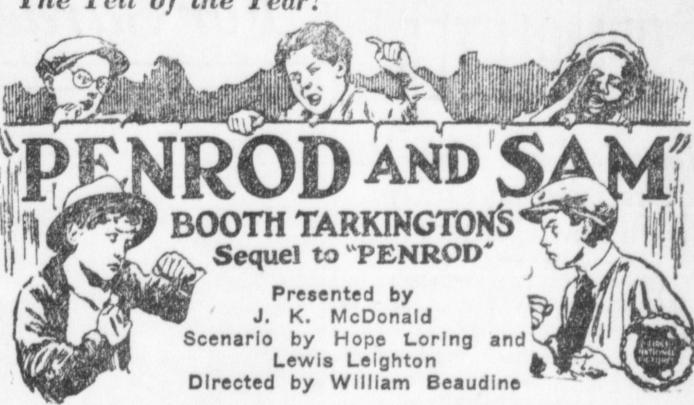

Miss Phillips is supported by an admirable cast. The picture was produced in Los Angeles and the California mountains, and contains some of the most superb outdoor snow scenes that have ever been photographed.

TRIXIE FRIGANZA PICTURE HERE WEDNESDAY

Supporting Trixie Friganza, star of the screen adaptation of "Mind Over Motor," based on a Saturday Evening Post story written by Mary Roberts Rinehart, is a cast of well-known players. Among them are Ralph Graves and Clara Horton.

WHAT YOU WILL SEE IN "THE TOWN THAT FORGOT GOD"

The most sensational and spectacular storm and flood scene ever shown on the screen.

A whole town wiped off the map by a terrific deluge. The most tense dramatic story of American small town life ever portrayed.

Life in a small American town where the ten commandments are broken every day and the golden rule every hour.

A man-made storm and flood that surpasses for thrills and sensations the greatest deluges in history.

A dramatic story based on the love of a boy for his mother. A boy, still in his 'teens, who gives a dramatic characterization unsurpassed in the history of motion pictures.

A story adapted from the real life experiences of its leading character.

A motion picture that proves again truth is stranger than fiction.

A mighty maelstrom of emotion.

A kaleidoscope of typical American home life.

GARDEN GROVE CLUBHOUSE IS COMPLETED

Women's Civic Club Has First Meeting Friday in New Quarters

(Special to The Register) GARDEN GROVE, Aug. 4.—A dream come true.

Yesterday afternoon, for the first time, the members of the Garden Grove Women's Civic club met in their new $6000 club house. Memories went back to October 28, 1921, when the seventeen charter members gathered and organized the club which has meant so much to the women hereabouts since. At present there are nearly a hundred women enrolled as members.

Reports Are Heard

At the meeting yesterday afternoon the report of the chairman of the building committee, Mrs. Henry, and the report of the chairman of the finance committee, Mrs. Luedke, were hard. Plans were discussed for a street fair to which the Garden Grove American Legion post, the chamber of commerce, the Parent-Teachers' association, the Lions club and the Boy Scouts would lend their assistance.

The new clubhouse is located on Ocean avenue west of the Garden Grove post office building.

Is Well Equipped

It is a stage, dressing rooms, kitchen, cloak room and seating capacity for 500 people. The officers of the club are: President, Mr. J. V. Kelsey; vice president, Mrs. C. V. Henry; secretary, Mrs. Heyhurst; treasurer, Mrs. Mable Lewis; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. D. Hoenshel; directors, Mrs. C. C. Violett, Mrs. E. Holtz, Mrs. J. A. Knapp, Mrs. N. Leuke, Mrs. Ed. Chaffee, Mrs. W. Sackengast, Mrs. J. V. Kelsey.

Although the first meeting was held in the new quarters yesterday the formal opening is not to occur until early in September. Open house will probably be held both afternoon and evening. Representatives of all women's clubs in Orange county and the Lions clubs will be among those invited to attend. Invitations may also be sent to officers of the State Federation of Women's clubs, it was said. A musical program will feature the evening.

In a statement today Mrs. Kelsey, the president, expressed her deep appreciation to all those who have assisted in bringing the club house about.

She stressed the fact that the young women of Garden Grove will now have a center for their activities, and that other organizations will also be permitted to use the clubhouse. The contractor has provided even more than he was paid for, it was said, and others associated in the building have been very kind.

About $1500 was raised by the club women themselves. The Garden Grove chamber of commerce gave $1000 of the amount. The Lions clubs of the county rendered financial assistance by the staging of an all-day rally and a baseball game for the benefit of the clubhouse.

It is believed that Garden Grove has the third woman's clubhouse in the county, the others being located at Costa Mesa and Yorba Linda.

LA HABRA LIBRARY WELL PATRONIZED

LA HABRA, Aug. 4.—The librarian's report at the board meeting held this week showed a gain of nearly 500 per cent. On January 1, 1922, there were 342 books on the shelves, and on June 1, 1923, there are now 1,547. Patrons on the average are 696, an average daily circulation of sixty.

The meeting developed in a ways and means committee to raise funds for current expenses of the building. The insurance is to be paid, some shelving arranged for and some other minor expenses to be met. The free county library is supported by the state, but the repairs and other property expenses must be met by the library committee. A food sale was thought to be the best means of raising ready money and one will be given on Saturday, August 11 at 9 o'clock.

The books donated to the library by La Habra folk are kept here and not transferred to other branch libraries.

The fines on these books are also kept in the home till, and these, while small, help to defray many little expenses. In giving books to the library it is desired that care be taken and only such books as can go on the shelves be donated.

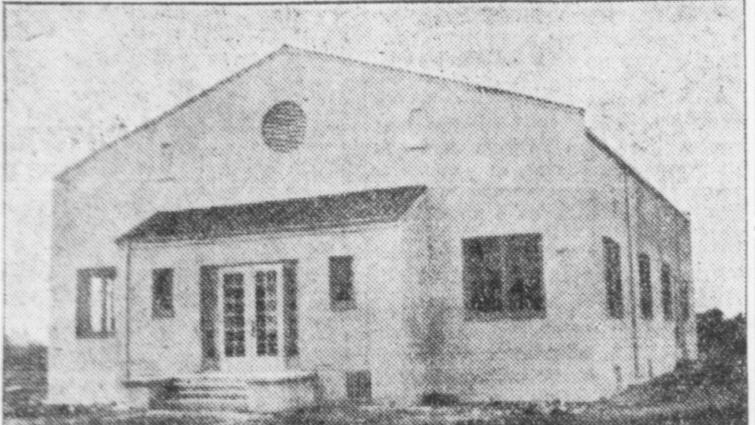

Cruiser "Caroline" At Newport Club

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Scofield, sailing the cruiser "Caroline" are at the yacht club where they arrived from Wilmington yesterday.

They have as passengers, the Scofield daughters. A stay over the weekend has been planned by the party, who have taken quarters at the club.

The "Caroline" is one of the prettiest boats of the coast, and is an object of admiration wherever she goes.

Pirate Dance To Attract Cutlasses

BALBOA, Aug. 4.—A "Pirate Dance" which is promised as an "unusual novelty" has been arranged by Tudor and Hill of the Lighthouse Cafe here, and is scheduled for Friday night of next week.

A sign on the outside of the cafe warns attendants to bring their "cutlasses and knives."

Just what the dance will be is the secret of Mr. Tudor and Mr. Hill, but they say that they have been working on the details for some time, and promise to make it something unusual for Balboa.

ARRANGE SURPRISE FOR IRVINE WOMAN

IRVINE, Aug. 4.—A pleasant birthday surprise was given for Mrs. L. Graves at her home here one day last week. The surprise was arranged by her sons and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Graves and Robert Graves. A dinner was served and the honored guest received a handsome gift.

A very pleasant evening was spent Tuesday, when a party of young people motored to Serra on a wiener bake. Those enjoying the happy affair were: Misses Emma and Velma Pinkston, Lila Taylor, Pansy and Winnie Crawford and Messrs. CYPRESS WELL TO START OFF THIS WEEK

ANAHEIM, Aug. 4.—Taking over leases reported to total 200 acres.

The Gaddie Oil company of Los Angeles is scheduled to begin drilling near Cypress. The derrick is up and all is said to be set for the opening of operations.

The concern was declared by a rancher, interested in the success of the enterprise, to be thoroughly experienced and to have plenty of capital behind it. Its personnel consists of Angelenos, with F. Leslie Meeker of Fullerton, geologist.

Among the ranchers who have leased land are W. M. Wicker, Jones P. Street, Julius A. Hollingsworth and Messrs. Stanton and Jackson.

Attempts have been made to obtain oil in this general vicinity but not at the same point. The Petroleum Midway company drilled 2410 feet on Lincoln avenue, near Buena Park, but made no test. The depth drilled was not regarded as sufficient to determine whether there was oil.

The Standard Oil company drilled on the Mitchell place t Buena Park, and had two showings of oil sand, one at 2990 feet and the other at 4600. The company apparently did not regard either showing as enough to warrant further drilling.

Ron Cobb and Dee Crowell of Los Angeles, spent Sunday at the Jack Ludden home.

Clyde Daugherty and Miss Bessie Phinney, Edmund Melton of Placentia, and Miss Lenora Phinney attended a Santa Ana theater Sunday evening.

Miss Blanche Horton spent the weekend with her grandmother at Tustin.

BARGE ARRIVAL AT PORT HAS BIG IMPORT

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 4.—History was made at Newport Harbor yesterday when a long, graceful tug, "Vivo" of San Pedro swung into the channel at the breakwater, towing in her wake the first commercial barge ever brought into the harbor.

History Written

The history that was written yesterday was placed on the page of "Dreams" and read "Finis."

A new page was turned, and the first accomplishment of the actual harbor of Newport was jotted down.

For years, according to men interested in the development of Orange county harbor at Newport, just such an occurrence has been needed in the harbor.

Friday at a few moments before 10:30 a. m. word was received that the barge had been sighted.

A party aboard the tug "Research," piloted by Harold Knight and carrying as her captain, J. A. Nicklas, immediately left the harbor and went out to meet the tug and barge.

Tug Has Three Skippers

The tug "Vivo," carrying three captains aboard, Thomas Willis, Edward Young and Ole Hanson, and piloted by John S. Norcross, whistled three times. The "Research" answered with one long piercing shriek that was heard all over Newport Beach.

George Peabody boarded the "Vivo" at Newport pier. Joe Beek, harbor master, met the tug at the inlet to the channel and acted as pilot master.

The barge itself gleamed in the sun that shone on the waters of Newport Harbor. Piled high with 100,000 feet of lumber, she was an imposing sight.

As the whistles of the tugs screamed a victorious "Hailoo" to people on the shore, crowds came running to the water front to see what it was all about. A line of people from the extreme end of the peninsula to the syndicate wharf greeted the incoming boats.

Aboard the "Research" was a party of newspaper men from Huntington Beach and Santa Ana. C. W. Patrick of the Huntington Beach News and a reporter for the Register joined the tug when it started for the barge. J. A. Armistage of the harbor commission met the barge also.

Hayden Scampers Ashore

"Jack" Hayden, president of the Newport Harbor Transportation company, and operator of the fleet of barges of which today's historic arrival was the first, was on the wharf when the tug and barge docked.

Jack Whitney of the Whitney Lumber company of Huntington Beach, who, according to Mr. Hayden, "deserves all the credit for this momentous piece of work," was also there.

Neither said anything for a brief moment. Jack Hayden's eyes danced. Jack Whitney's did likewise.

"She's here," almost shouted the both as friends on the tugs shouted greetings and congratulations to the smiling pair.

Three huge trucks and one trailer stood ready at the end of the wharf to carry away the lumber to its various points of consignment. A delegation of Newport Beach men were present when the boats tied up.

According to Mr. Hayden, another barge, laden with 150,000 feet of lumber from Seattle, Wash., will arrive early next week. A mixed cargo of merchandise is also consigned to the harbor.

"It is no longer to be said that we have 'possibilities' here," one man remarked.

"We have a harbor. A shipping point which has received its first scheduled cargo."

The Whitney Lumber company are preparing a large lumber yard adjoining the wharf for the accommodation of its consignments. The barge line will make two trips weekly at present, it was stated.

They were accompanied by their two daughters, the Misses Helen and Lea Houston, and Mr. Houston's sister, Miss Cora Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Houston of Mariposa drive, Altadena, motored down Tuesday for the afternoon.

They were accompanied by their two daughters, the Misses Helen and Lea Houston, and Mr. Houston's sister, Miss Cora Houston.

BUICK MODELS FOR 1924 ARE AWAITED AS CARS DUE

Striking Types of 1923 Are Claimed to Be Outdone In Several Ways

DELIVERY THIS WEEK

Body Lines Changed Along With Motor, Carburetor And External Brakes

With 50 per cent more power in its valve-in-head six cylinder motor, its successful external brakes extended to four wheels in both sixes and fours, a specially designed carburetor that is declared a wonder, and many other developments, Santa Ana motorists interested in motor construction today were impatiently awaiting the arrival here next week of models of the 1924 product of the Buick factory.

According to J. W. Tubbs, manager of the Reid Motor company, Buick dealer, some of the new models will be on the local salesroom floor the fore part of next week.

On top of adoption of the four-wheel brakes as an increased safety measure, and addition of other improvements in the motor construction, the new models also will come in new body lines, Tubbs says.

All Models Changed

"Changes in body lines, of course, will be noticed first by those who see the new models," the manager said. "Undoubtedly body chances have been influenced to a degree by recent refinements in foreign design. A more modish appearance, even than the 1923 models, has been developed by a departure in radiator and hood contour on both open and closed

S. A. Contractor, Family Planning 3500-Mile Jaunt

George E. Preble, pioneer building contractor of this city, and his two sons, Boyd, with the Curtis Canning company at San Pedro, and Sam, building contractor of this city, today were making final preparations for starting Monday on a long automobile jaunt to York, Me., Preble's old home city.

With 3500 miles confronting them, the party will depart confident of making good traveling time in the Studebaker sedan to be used. The travelers expect to return the latter part of September.

The trip to Maine is being made for the purpose of visiting the senior Preble's mother, who despite her age of 94 years, is in good health.

Camp equipment will be carried.

Cordial Reception Is Given Sugar Men As Auto Agency Opened

Claude L. Killen, city councilman and former Santa Ana Sugar company superintendent, at Dyer, today was giving his personal attention to the Oakland agency which he and George Miles, former superintendent of the sugar factory at Huntington Beach, purchased last week.

Miles also is giving his personal attention to the business. According to Killen, the new firm has been given a cordial reception by the public, this being satisfactorily evidenced by a 100 per cent increase in repair work at the garage.

"It is our intention to give service that is service and with this policy, we hope to build up a large clientele in Santa Ana and vicinity," Killen said today.

SCHOOL ENTERED

Report was made to the police that the Jefferson street grammar school had been entered by burglars. Officer Barnhill investigated and found nothing missing. He reported that he believed boys had been the culprits. C. H. Dean, janitor, was instructed to change the locks on the doors of the schoolhouse.

PLACENTIA AVE. PAVING NEARS COMPLETION

Saving of Time, Mileage to Northern County Folk Is Factor of Direct Route

Completion Friday by B. R. Ford of his paving contract on Placentia avenue will make available, within the next three weeks, a paved highway offering a more direct route to Santa Ana from the Northeast portion of Orange county, it was pointed out here today by J. L. McBride, superintendent of county highways.

Pouring of concrete was completed Friday. "Setting" of the concrete poured on the last day will require twenty-one days, at the end of which time the road will be thrown open to traffic.

Ford's contract embraced two miles, extending from a point on the state highway near the county farm, north to the conjunction with pavement put in some months ago.

It was pointed out that mileage and time will be saved to residents of Placentia, Yorba Linda and contiguous territory who may have occasion to visit Santa Ana.

It is estimated that use of this street will save the residents one and half miles, as against the old route through Anaheim, and then to Santa Ana over the state highway.

Saving of mileage is the least important factor, it was pointed out. Time saved by avoiding the congested condition of the state highway is the big factor, it was declared.

It is expected also that paving and general use of the new road will help relieve congestion on the state highway.

"It is our intention to give service that is service and with this policy, we hope to build up a large clientele in Santa Ana and vicinity," Killen said today.

CARELESSNESS IN PARKING IS DEPLORED AS MORE CARE ADVOCATED

Says Drivers Could Help In Saving Space By Leaving Machines Closer

DISREGARD LINES FIXED

Says Two or Three Feet Is Enough In Falling In Behind Other Cars

Declaring that more parking space would be available on the streets of Santa Ana, if motorists used proper care in parking, C. P. McDowell, 1013 East Chestnut street, today urged drivers to observe more carefully lines marking parking stalls.

He pointed out that on streets where parallel parking is the regulation, space could be saved if drivers would halt their cars within two or three feet of the car in front. He called attention to the fact that many owners, heedless of the rights of others, frequently stop their cars many feet from a parked car in the same line.

Blames Drivers

He also decried the carelessness of motorist parking cars in stalls marked for angle parking.

"Some drivers pay no attention to the lines, and halt their machines outside the lines, with the result that one machine frequently kills' space for two autos," McDowell said.

Would Save Space

"At best close-in parking room is scarce, and 'hogging' should not be permitted. City officials, Chamber of Commerce officers and others have been complaining about the lack of parking room on streets in the close business district. My suggestion would not solve the problem, but it would help, as space wasted by the absolute disregard of some motorists for the rights of others would be conserved."

FIND SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY QUITE HOT

C. L. Congdon, 601 South Parton street, this city, part owner of the Congdon garage at Capistrano, has returned, with his family, from a trip to Lake Tahoe in their Nash sport model.

The tourists went the coast route to San Francisco, and to the mountain resort by way of Sacramento, Auburn and Cisco. Returning, the trip was made through Nevada and Placerville to Sacramento, and thence home over the valley route.

According to Congdon, the heat was terrific in the San Joaquin valley. He said he drove from Modesto, 390 miles, in one day, in order to get back to the cooling breezes of Orange county.

Congdon said his Nash car gave him perfect service. Freedom from trouble added to the pleasures of the vacation, he added.

Marysville Man Wins $300 In Damage Suit

MARYSVILLE, Aug. 4.—A jury in the damage suit of Joe Rodriguez against Simone Severini, a Sutter county orchardist, for $10,265.40, returned a verdict awarding defendant $300.40. This was the second trial of the case. The jury in the first case awarded $150, a new trial was asked for, and Judge E. P. McDaniel, who heard the case, set aside the jury's verdict and granted a new trial. Rodriguez is 80 years old. He worked every day for a living up to the day nearly two years ago when plaintiff struck him down, the fall resulting in injuries that have incapacitated him since, according to testimony.

$25 Award Offered For Title to Figure Timely to Star Car

Jacob Fisher, Santa Ana war hero and cartoonist, who last week entered the employ of the Appleby Motor company as salesman for the Star automobile, has designed a figure to be used in the company's advertising.

The company today is offering $25 to the person who suggests the best name for the figure, a name that will be catchy and appropriate to the line of business conducted by the company.

Suggested names should be in the hands of the company by Saturday evening, August 18, it was announced today by R. L. Joyner, member of the firm.

A committee of judges has been selected.

Auto Wash Rack Here Purchased By Expert

M. Wicks, who for the past 18 years has specialized in automobile washing and polishing, has leased the auto wash rack in the Lantz Brothers' garage, 517 North Main street, it was announced to-day.

"These three cars give the driver a total of 312,000 miles—more than twelve times around the earth—in addition to what he has driven in a type 57 roadster and a new '61' limousine, for which no records are given."

SAYS EASTERN CAR HAS MILEAGE MARK

According to Otto Haan, president and manager of the Cadillac Garage company, one of the longest authentic mileage records of a driver with one make of car, the equivalent of once around the earth every twelve months for twelve years, is the score of Patrick Gunning of Wilmington, Del., who has been piloting Cadillac cars owned by William S. Hilles of that city.

"The first Cadillac owned by Hilles and driven by him, was a 1912 four-cylinder car, which covered not less than 87,000 miles," said the dealer. "The next was of the first V-type eight-cylinder series produced by Cadillac, a type 51, which before being traded in, showed a mileage of 125,000. On his third car, a type 57 limousine, this spring, he photographed his speedometer showing 99,999 miles.

"These three cars give the driver a total of 312,000 miles—more than twelve times around the earth—in addition to what he has driven in a type 57 roadster and a new '61' limousine, for which no records are given."

In the demonstration, the famous justice received several surprise bolts that threw his vocal machine into high, and it brought the sincere exclamation that 50 per cent of the automobile accidents could be prevented if all cars were to pattern after the Rickenbacker and place brakes on all four wheels.

In the demonstration, the famous justice received several surprise bolts that threw his vocal machine into high, and it brought the sincere exclamation that 50 per cent of the automobile accidents could be prevented if all cars were to pattern after the Rickenbacker and place brakes on all four wheels.

Cox's first surprise came when Nickerent, driving on North Broadway at fifteen miles an hour, applied the brakes and the car stopped dead in its tracks.

The sudden stop pitched the "terror" of speeders forward and his head bumped the windshield.

The judge "came up for air" with the declaration that Rickenbacker virtually had solved the problem of preventing accidents.

Nickerent pointed out that, speeding at 35 miles an hour, the Rickenbacker could be stopped within fourteen feet. Demonstrations proved the correctness of the driver's assertion.

"Application of four-wheel brakes to all cars would easily reduce accidents by 50 per cent," Justice Cox said, following a fifteen-minute ride in the Rickenbacker. "It certainly would be an effective means of reducing accidents at railroad crossings."

Contrary to his usual expression as regards ownership of a car, "treat 'em all alike—ten days in jail" slogan, said that he believed he would like to own a Rickenbacker.

"Jack" Maybe, local distributor, and Roy Fisher, salesman, were among those who witnessed the brake demonstrations.

WESTMINSTER NEWS ITEMS FOR TODAY

WESTMINSTER, Aug. 4.—Mr.

terian church Sunday and were guests at dinner of Mrs. McKee's sister, Mrs. F. J. Grandy.

Ralph Murdock and Glenn Byram made a trip, starting Friday, over the ridge route through Bakersfield, Alpaugh and Angloia to Strathmore, where they visited friends. They were accompanied by Mrs. O. B. Byram and Miss Fern Byram, who surprised the latter's sister, Mrs. Marjorie Swanson at Corcoran by their unexpected visit. They arrived home Monday evening.

Mrs. O. C. Hare and children Mary, Louise and Orel, who have spent the last two weeks visiting Mrs. Hare's mother, Mrs. R. E. Larter, left Wednesday for their home at Holland Island.

Mrs. Clara Halstead of Los Angeles spent a day last week visiting her cousin, Mrs. F. J. Grandy. Mrs. R. E. Larter and Mrs. J. F. Patterson went to Los Angeles on Wednesday, where the latter will spend a week visiting friends. Mrs. Larter returned Thursday.

Dr. John Waters and wife, with their children, John and Nancy Jean, of Santa Ana, called Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Grandy.

Rev. Earl Dwight Hills of Highland Park will occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian church Sunday in the absence of Rev. W. T. Wardle, who has the month of August for his vacation.

Miss Maretta Murdock, who spent last week with relatives in Los Angeles, returned home this week.

TAKES STEP TO CURB SUMP HOLE USE

Steps to abate what residents of the vicinity proclaimed a public nuisance had been taken today by District Attorney A. P. Nelson with the filing of a petition in the superior court here, asking that the Crystal Chemical company of Anaheim be ordered to show cause why an injunction should not be issued against the maintenance of sump holes near its plant.

The plant, which manufactures

"industrial alcohol," is situated near the Anaheim Sugar factory, north of Anaheim. According to the petition filed by the district attorney, two sump holes, into which waste products from the plant are emptied, give off an offensive, sickening odor declared to be not only objectionable to residents within a considerable radius but even injurious to health.

Nelson filed the petition in Superior Judge F. M. Jamison's court late yesterday. A temporary restraining order was not applied for, inasmuch as it was decided by Nelson that by the time the company could complete arrangements for doing away with the sump holes, a hearing on the permanent injunction would have been held.

A hearing scheduled for yesterday afternoon with reference to a petition for a court order to the Petroleum Midway oil company, at Huntington Beach, requesting that company to show cause why it should not be restrained from the asserted allowing of mud and water to flow over Summit avenue, was continued when it developed that most of the defendants named in the petition had not been summoned into court. George Putnam, one of the defendants who was present, was notified that the petition as it referred to him, was dismissed.

Three, Including Two Women, Get Divorce

Two wives and a husband had been granted interlocutory decrees of divorce today, following hearings in Superior Judge F. M. Jamison's court here late yesterday.

Agnes Cruzon of Orange was awarded a decree from Robert Cruzon, on grounds of desertion.

Vivian Harrington of Huntington Beach secured a decree from Frank Harrington, on the same grounds.

Donald A. Simpson of Fullerton was given a decree from Dorothy Simpson, on cruelty grounds.

YUBA CITY, Aug. 4.—Officers of both Yuba City and Marysville have been asked by A. Barbarian Armenian, to help him locate his 16-year-old daughter, Lillian, who ran away and is believed to have gone somewhere to join Frank Quintell, a Portuguese of Atwater.

The Barbarians came here from Fresno and were employed at the local cannery of the California

Packing Corporation. The girl had been receiving letters from Quintell; and her father forbade her writing to him, it is said by the officers.

WOMEN'S BUILDING WILL FEATURE FAIR

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 4.—The Women's building promises to be unusually attractive at the California state fair, September 1-9. Already entries have come in that are altogether different from those displayed in the building heretofore.

The Napa state hospital is sending an extensive exhibit of the occupational therapy department of that institution.

The state child's welfare bureau will conduct a baby clinic throughout the nine days of the fair and the state dental bureau will also be in operation in the Women's building the entire time.

The usual playgrounds emergency hospital nursery and restroom will be there, all with improvements over previous years.

The upstairs of the building will be devoted, as usual, to the art gallery, which will be under the superintendence of W. F. Jackson of the Crocker art gallery.

REDS, GIANTS MEET IN PENNANT CHASE

Pat Moran Plans to Pitch
Luque, Mound Ace, Twice
Adams In Best Bout

BY HENRY L. FARRELL,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Cincinnati's tribe of red legs and the giants of New York will get down to the business today of deciding which team is entitled to first place in the National league race.

With the Yankees so far in front in the American league that they just about have a cinch for the pennant, baseball's chief interest is centered in the three way fight in the National league between the Giants, Reds and Pirates.

Giants Lead By 3 Games
McGraw headed his champions into the series with the Reds with a lead of three games that will be mighty slim if the Reds greet them with the rampage that scalped the Giants on their last trip to Ohio.

To get the jump in the series,
Pat Moran may call upon Luque, his Cuban star, to pitch two games. Luque has been pitching the best ball in the major leagues this season and he has been particularly effective against the Giants. In three appearances against them he has won three games, two of them being shut outs.

Rest Helps Champions Yesterday's rest, while being of benefit to both teams, should work to more advantage to the Giants and it will give the slim New York pitching staff a brief and much needed breathing spell.

Nehf, McQuillan and Scott have been off form and the bulk of the pitching burden has been upon Watson, Ryan and Bentley. They showed good form in their last work but they are all erratic at their best.

Luque, Donohue and Rixey are three tough pitchers for any club to get over and they will be a problem even for such a savage attacking club as the Giants.

Dempsey Off to Begin
Firpo Bout Training

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Declaring that he needed but little work to get into condition to defend his heavyweight championship against Luis Firpo, Jack Dempsey left today for Saratoga, where he is to train for the fight.

"I feel fine," the champion said.
"I am still practically in training,
as I have taken on only ten pounds since I fought Gibbons in Shelby. I'm not underestimating Firpo because any fighter who can punch the way he can is not to be taken lightly."

Governor Halts Firpo,
Cowles Ring Contest

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 4.—The ten round no-decision boxing match between Luis Angel Firpo and Tom Cowles, British heavyweight, scheduled here Monday night, was ordered stopped by Governor Hyde today.

Hyde wired St. Louis police, pointing out that the state law forbids prize fights.

Fight Results

OMAHA—Luis Firpo, the South American heavyweight title aspirant, won over Homer Smith, Klamazoo, in ten rounds. Smith was knocked down twenty times and was weak at the finish.

LOTT IS NET FINALIST
CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—George Lott, 17-year-old Chicago youth, will meet the winner of a match between Walter Hayes and Walter Westbrook for the western tennis title Sunday. Hayes and Westbrook play today. Lott defeated John Hennessey, defending champion, yesterday.

LAWYER, Known Among
Rail Circles, Is Dead
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Arthur J. Dahl, 38, member of the law firm of Dahl and Jackson, San Francisco, is dead as the result of an apoplectic stroke to which he succumbed at Lake Tahoe.

The high altitude was believed to have caused the stroke.

He was widely known among railroad men, having served as assistant passenger agent of the Illinois Central railroad prior to entering the practice of law here in 1916.

Besides the widow, Mrs. Avice Dahl, he is survived by one daughter, Gladys Dahl, 14; his father and mother, John A. Dahl and Mrs. Annette Dahlin, of 115 Judah street, San Francisco, and a brother, Edward Dahlin, railroad engineer of Colton.

Scoutmaster to Head
American Legion Post

PETALUMA, Aug. 4.—Clarence
C. Keen, scoutmaster of Petaluma Boy Scout troop No. 2, is now the commander of Petaluma post No.
28, American Legion, having been installed to that office at the anniversary dinner this week. Keen has been one of the active workers of the post since coming here from Yreka a few years ago. The other officers are: First vice commander, Joseph L. Whidden; second vice commander, G. Woodson; adjutant,
John A. Anderson; historian, David
L. Oberg; chaplain, Lindsay Thomson. State department officers were here for the annual meeting.

Tennis Players In
Last Hour Rush To Enter Big Tourney

Members of the Santa Ana Tennis club today were filling eleventh hour entries for the tournament to be staged by the club at Poly Field August 9, 10 and 11.

Those in charge of arrangements for the affair announced that the entry list will be officially closed at 9 o'clock tonight. Entries may be made until that time at the Victor
Walker sporting goods store,
205 West Fourth street.

Drawing for the tourney, in which more than 20 persons already have signified their intentions of participating, will be made Monday.

TITLE AT STAKE IN EDISON NINES GAME

With big "Dutch" Hinrichs on the hill and Captain "Toughy" Tyrrell handling his slants behind the bat, the crack Santa Ana Edison company baseball team this afternoon went into action at Poly field with the Angelus nine of Los Angeles in the first of a three game series to determine the diamond supremacy of the Southern California Edison company league.

The second game of the series will be played next Saturday at Los Angeles, and the third, if necessary at Santa Ana, the following week.

The winning team will travel North next month to play the championship team of the Northern California Edison league.

Do You Know!

"Is it true that Lee Fohl is to be displaced this winter as the manager of the St. Louis Browns?"

Fohl, from reliable reports, will not manage the Browns the next season. Not that he is in bad with the Brown owners but because he is to get a better job as manager of the Boston Red Sox with Bobby Quinn, new president of the Boston team and former business manager of the Browns. It is also reported that George Sisler will manage the Browns next season.

"Was it true that Jess Willard's handlers said he quit in his fight with Luis Firpo?"

Some time after Firpo-Willard fight, Jack Skelly, Willard's chief second in the fight, gave out a strong statement in which he said quite openly that Willard had deliberately quit and that he was not badly hurt.

"What caused the mid-season slump of the New York Giants?"

Slumps in baseball are hard to explain. The collapse of the Giant pitching staff and the absence of Dave Bancroft, star shortstop, no doubt affected the morale of the club and was a big factor in causing the precipitated lapse of form.

Van Dien-Youngs Play
Union Oils Tomorrow

The baseball team of the Van ning at 2:30 o'clock. Manager Mouton of the local nine announced today.

Water Company Would Standardize Contracts

SAN JOSE, Aug. 4.—Decision to adopt a standard switchboard standard form of contract and to standardize farm pumping plants was reached at a meeting of the Western Irrigation Equipment association. Representatives from irrigation equipment manufacturing companies from various parts of the Southwest were in attendance.
Sacramento was fixed as the place for the annual convention, to be held September 7.

C. A. Utley of Sacramento, president of the association, presided over the sessions. A banquet was held the gathering to a close.
P. L. Nourse of San Jose officiated as toastmaster and E. K. Johnston, managing editor of the San Jose Mercury Herald, was the principal speaker.

Fresno Annexation
Program Launched

FRESNO, Aug. 4.—The first work in an annexation program for the city of Fresno was expected to be sound at a meeting to be called here, according to Commissioner George F. Sharp, who announced his plan for enlarging the city limits now that lower taxes will make an annexation less irksome. It is Sharp's proposal to add sixteen square miles to the limits of the city, which at present is only about eight square miles. When preliminary action has been taken it is expected that petitions will be put in the field in various outlying districts for circulation.

STILL ON TRAIL OF BATTLE WITH CHAMP

Harry Wills, giant negro heavyweight, still believes he can lick Jack Dempsey easily. Far from gay old Broadway, in a quiet little farmhouse, he's training strenuously every day. He wants to be in readiness whenever Dempsey consents to meet him.

SPORTS of all SORTS

While 1923 may have been the experts are all wrong, the time in year of big busts for champions, several headliners of sports have successfully survived the test of the year and will be back next year defending their titles.

Foremost, perhaps, of the super-champions who have passed the 1923 test safely, is Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, the queen of the world's tennis court.

The great French girl, who says she has completely recovered her health, ran away so far with the championship at Wimbledon that her game encouraged the tennis expert of "Sporting Life" (London) to write:

"Is anything Suzanne is better than she ever was. Can she improve? If she does, what hope is there of recovering the championship for perhaps another fifteen years?"

Enthusiasm over the form shown by the French girl, the ease with which she walked through the tournament and the possible dearth of material in England may have aroused enthusiasm to the point of exaggeration in estimating the length of Suzanne's reign as queen of the courts.

Age and increasing years do not exact the penalty among tennis players with the same severity suffered by other athletes. Brooks remained a star until he was an "old man" and several of the star women players of the United States
"carry on" long past the age when the average athlete could have been counted on as having passed the peak.

Disregarding the promise shown by Miss Helen Wills, the California girl star, it is only logical to
champion for an indefinite period.

The French girl, regardless of what was said about her heart when she retired at Forest Hills two years ago, is none too strong and she has had a very strenuous career on the courts. She may retain her strokes and her technique, but her physical resources cannot go on forever.

"Little Helen Wills is building a strong game of distinctive masculine style, due to the fact that she has learned the game and developed it against male opposition. She is developing great strength and unless she is to be beaten by the French girl
she will be a strong competitor."

BATTERY CARE FOR SUMMER STRESSED

CAMPBELL, Aug. 4.—Convinced that the only method by which adequate police protection can be provided for the town is through incorporation, members of the Campbell Commercial association at its weekly meeting appointed a committee to ascertain the preliminary steps necessary to effect the change. Some time ago the association appealed to the county for police protection, but were advised that no funds were available for the purpose. Sheriff George W.
Lyle promised to deputize a watchman if his services were authorized and paid for by the town, but so far none has been procured.

Japanese Merchant
At Lindsay Buried

LINDSAY, Aug. 4.—Funeral services were held over the body of Dansuke Shinoda, 36, Japanese merchant of Lindsay, whose body was recovered from the Kaweah river. Shinoda was accidentally drowned near Oak Grove. Accompanied by his family and friends,
he was enjoying a fishing expedition.
He became separated from the others and slipped into the stream.
It shortens the life of a battery.
"Sometimes a battery may be overheated because it is un-dercharged. When undercharged for some time, plates become hardened and offer greater resistance to the current."

Roly-Poly Portuguese Boy
In No Shape to Fight;

FIGHT RESULTS.

Jack McDonnell won from Battling Ortega, decision.

Young Terry, Johnny Vasquez, draw.

Steve Dalton, Harry Lee,
draw.

Matt Spar, Indian Jack
Price, draw.

Johnny Adams won from Sailor Cossey, decision.

Kid Mack won from Big
Chief, technical K. o. third.

Battling Ortega, the poly-poly Portuguese light heavyweight, ten pounds too heavy and with one eye completely closed as the result of a previous contest, was in no condition to give Jack McDonnell any kind of a fight in the main event at Huntington Beach last night.

For his own good, Ortega never should have attempted to meet Mc-Donnell. For the good of the fans it would have been better if some gentleman with a pair of good eyes had been in there pawing at the Seattle 175-pounder.

McDonnell made Ortega a human punching bag, cuffed him about the ring at will and sent him reeling to the floor three times but the Battler, his left eye swollen the size of a saucer, was still there at the finish.

Ketchell Falls to Show.

Johnny Vasquez and Young
Terry steamed through four rounds of light tapping, the judges calling it even up at the end. Billy Ketchell, San Diego welterweight, went on his show and Vasquez went on his place.

Harry Lee was altogether too large to make his go with Steve Dalton very interesting. Lee outweighed the Italian middleweight about thirty pounds but Dalton's ring experience kept him safe. It was a poor match.

Another draw resulted in the Matt Spar-Indian Jack Price fair, although Price had a good edge as a result of a strong finish in the last two rounds. The crowd, however, was with Spar.

Adams Shows Class.

By far the best bout of the bill was that between Johnny Adams, San Bernardino 128-pounder, and Sailor Cossey, substituting for Paddy Flynn.

Adams, as usual, tore in relentlessly with both hands flying but he found Cossey a pretty tough egg to crack. Cossey hit back at first after a few exchanges he was confident to back up or throw himself into a clinch. After the first canto, Adams built up a big lead. He had Cossey groggy twice but could not reach the right spot for his k. o.
punch.

Big Chief, called "Big Cheese" by some wag in the house, was willing to quit after three rounds of awkward milling with Kid Mack. They boxed in the curtain-raiser.

Alec Bopp, who held a fire cracker in his teeth fourth of July,
is able to be out again.

JOHN HANNON, wealthy ranch owner, his blind wife, BELLE, and their beautiful daughter, VAL, live happily together in Hannon's wonderful ranch home, Paradise. Redstar, king of the Red Brood of horses owned by Hannon, was acquired by the master during a mystery ride into distant lands.

In Hunnewell's store in Santa Leandra, nearest town to Paradise ranch, a game is running. BRIDEMAN, man of mystery, wins steadily until VELANTRIE, from the Border and his band of riders appear. Velantrie wins Brideman's gold and then wins LOLA SANCHEZ, the rose of Santa Leandra, who offers herself as a stake for Brideman. Velantrie fills Lola's sash with gold and tells her to go home to her father.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

PRESENTLY they swung far and away toward the north and west, to skirt the foot of the Mesa Grande that lifted its flat top high above the surrounding levels, to find the narrow trail that went up its south side in steep and dangerous slants, and to climb to its high tableland where the ancient Indian huts stood, hollow and deserted, whipped by the winds and eaten by their sands.

These silent places held a lure for Val Hannon, had always drawn her from the time when, a little child, her father had first brought her here to scan the world below. Val sat straight in her saddle, her hands folded on the pommel. And as they rested so in the bustle of the eternal silence alone on the mesa with its ghosts of a vanished people, something moved on the plain below, far off to the west, and caught their searching gaze.

A band of horsemen rode there, swiftly, sweeping out of the north where lay the town of Santa Leandra, and one shot out ahead, a leader.

The girl shaded her eyes with her hand and watched this rider and his horse. A red horse it was—a great red horse whose mane lifted above him like a cloud, whose beautiful body lay stretched along the earth in skimming flight, whose whole make and seeming were oddly familiar.

For a long moment she watched, while her eyes grew round with wonder and her lips fell apart. Then she dropped her hand and laid it on Redstar's neck as if she made sure of his living presence.

"Sweetheart," she said at last, incredulously, "if you weren't here beneath me I'd swear you ran yonder, as sure as death!"

And far off there where he rode like the wind itself toward the mystery of the all-engulfing Border, Velantrie rose in his stirrups and scanned the solitary horse and rider, standing like a statue high on the mesa's edge.

He was too far away to see the wondrous beauty of the red king facing him, or to know his rider for a woman. But with his characteristic gaiety he stood up for a second and sweeping the broad hat from his head, waved it in circles.

And Val Hannon, answering the stranger's signal, raised a hand above her head.

CHAPTER IV

The Cross in the Wilderness
THE summer drowsed upon the land. The winds had died this day and the brazen sun was monarch. Where the Little Antelope trickled sluggishly between its low banks, to nurse the straggling growth of trees that lined it, the heat was somewhat tempered. Cottonwoods grew here, tall and slim, and many wasatcha trees to spread their lacy shadow, and there were desert flowers planted in stone-edged beds among the sand, while the sword-like spikes of the maguey plant reached out to catch the unwary. This was a desert garden, rugged, grassless, inured to heat and drought, yet pleasant to the eye and mind as many a more favored spot was not. To the west of the garden and beyond the trees, standing out against the sun and the desert winds like a speared and shielded warrior, the long blank walls of the Mission took the light on their pale expanse in a way to be seen for many miles across the plains.

Peons, waifs, on the changing tides of fortune, refugees from the turbulent land across the Border, those broken and dispossessed by the warring factions that destroyed their own and got nowhere, the sick in mind and soul and body—these came to the doors of Refugio and none was turned away.

For at those doors stood Father Hillaire, who for forty years had watched the stretching plains. He had seen some piteous things, and more that were tragic, and some that were bright with faith and courage and everlasting fidelity—such as John Hannon's love for his blind wife—and he was gentle with understanding.

But those who came to the Mission must work, for Father Hillaire was poor in worldly goods and the scant fare that was so free on the long board in the great bare living-room behind the church must be taken from the soil with unceasing labor.

Frijoles grew on the level stretches across the stream and a few bands of cattle ran on the open range, while sturdy grapes purpled on the wall that clasped the garden. Brown bread and milk and simple home-made wine, and the frijoles always, these waited the comer at the Mission steps, be it dawn or dark or in the dead of night. But sometimes the slices of the dark bread were thin, the tea strongly flavored with sage, for gold came scarcely to the padre's coffers in these days.

The sun went down toward the west and the long, blue shadows started out across the level floor from the lone shaft of stone and the table-lands of the mesas, and the little wind began to whisper from the south, while the wondrous colors came sifting through the light.

warmth of recognition in her wrinkled features.

And so, presently, Velantrie of the Border sat at the long table with the padre of Refugio and ate as one famished, though with grace and manners. He bowed his black head through the short blessing and withheld his hand with a slow repression, though hunger was with him keenly.

When the meal was finished the two men went outside again to the starlight and the dry garden, drew together the worn chairs by the little table where lay the ancient books, and talked in that deep communion which comes with liking and understanding.

Twilight deepened and the tip of Velantrie's cigaret glowed in the dusk, sign-manual of comfort. They talked swiftly and nearly, and the padre leaned forward and laid his worn hand on Velantrie's knee.

Latest Achievements by CHANDLER

Outsells All Makes

Motor Registration News records that Pike's Peak Chandler outsells all other makes of cars by models in Los Angeles and Hollywood, selling for $1470 and over, during June. This same record was achieved in May, also.

Outsells Closed Cars

In the months of May and June more Pike's Peak Chandler Sedans were sold in Los Angeles and Hollywood than any other make, sedan or coach, regardless of price, except Ford and Chevrolet. Motor Fax records this achievement.

Lake Arrowhead in High

Officially conducted, a Chandler stock touring car, with Pike's Peak Motor installed in high gear, on July 6th, climbed the Rim of Waterman Canyon—18 miles of tortuous, constantly rising hairpin turns. This car had a gear ratio of 4.4 to 1—the standard ordinary gear ratio of all Chandlers. With the Chandler you drive with the accelerator—not the gear lever.

Climbs Mt. Wilson in High

Again—July 16th—Chandler, with 4.4 to 1 gear ratio, repeats, by climbing the precipitous Mt. Wilson road to the top, sealed in high gear—nine and a half miles of short turns and 19 per cent grades—proving again the Chandler is a master of the most feared hills, as well as a silent and smooth performer in heavy city traffic.

Fast Getaway

In official acceleration tests held recently in Detroit, the Pike's Peak motorized Chandler covered a measured and electrically timed quarter mile course in 20.4 seconds. Started at 5 miles an hour and passed out of the course at more than 60. Police flying squads insist upon an automobile that will literally jump out of its tracks.

EVENING SALUTATION
The Divine mind is as visible in its full energy of operation on every lowly bank and moldering stone as in the lifting of the pillars of heaven, and settling the foundation of the earth.—Ruskin.

THE NEW PRESIDENT

"The King is dead;
Long live the King!"

No personal consolation is possible for those who knew Warren G. Harding and loved him; but political and civic consolation is in some measure afforded by the thought—almost universally expressed—that "Coolidge is a good man." And the untimely death of President Harding again emphasizes the fact that in selecting a candidate for vice-president the choice should always be made on the theory that he will become President.

Yes, Coolidge is a good man in every way, and an able man. His courage and forcefulness and executive ability have been proved, as it were, on the field of battle. His writings and speeches prove him to be a man of thought as well as of action—a man of the highest ideals, with an eminently practical.

Whereupon the country is to be congratulated and consoled.

* * * *

No living man can accurately judge today what the unexpected death of President Harding means to the world. It is easy to point out the tragedy of it, the sorrow that comes to the nation through it; but it is impossible to say wherein his death will hamper the great world adjustments in which he was interested and toward which he was quietly and effectively working.

Only his close advisors can know the full import of his plans. Owing to the exigencies of the occasion, to a large extent their lips are sealed. None but they know what moves in the great game of human destiny the President was planning. Is it not probable that, patiently awaiting the time to strike, President Harding had planned master strokes for world peace?

None can measure the tremendous loss that the world has suffered through this death.

But Americans always have and always will face the inevitable bravely. In the face of grief and anguish and terrible loss, the American's way is to stand up in the period of darkness and turn toward the gleams of light and through tears make his way into a season of light.

Today, then, we place our hands in confidence upon the shoulders of our new President, Calvin Coolidge, and we say to him, "True, you have a tremendous responsibility placed upon you. But it is decreed that you shall lead, and to you, we as Americans pledge our trust."

* * * *

Citizens all over the land today are placing a measure upon President Coolidge. From the depths of their wisdom as men and women who have integral parts in the affairs of the country, they are discussing the manner of man it is whom fate has placed in the White House.

We are looking ahead to an administration of less than two years. Affairs have been terribly upset by the death of President Harding. Men are wondering if the same even keel maintained by him will be maintained for the remainder of the four-year term. We find in President Coolidge a man of very different temperament socially from President Harding. Rather austere and cold, President Coolidge offers a decided contrast to the friendliness and warmth that marked the spirit of President Harding.

But there are points of consequence that stand out supreme in the make-up of President Coolidge, just as they were supreme in the make-up of President Harding. He is a man of balance, sane, cautious, honest.

And in the face of an unexpected change, in the face of problems of huge import, sanity is the one great saving grace. Time heals. With the country upset, the country will welcome a man of the Coolidge type—a man who can sit tight, who can firmly steer the ship of state through the period of disquiet in some circles that may follow the death of the President, until the people of the land have an opportunity at another election to express their will.

WILLING TO ACCEPT IT

San Bernardino county, which has had experience with state institutions, inasmuch as the State Hospital is situated at Highland, is willing also to accept the proposed new state penitentiary.

At least, the San Bernardino Sun makes bold to say that it will. The Sun's statement in that regard is somewhat of a reply to The Register's recent editorial in which we said that we did not want the penitentiary situated in Orange county.

The Sun has this to say:

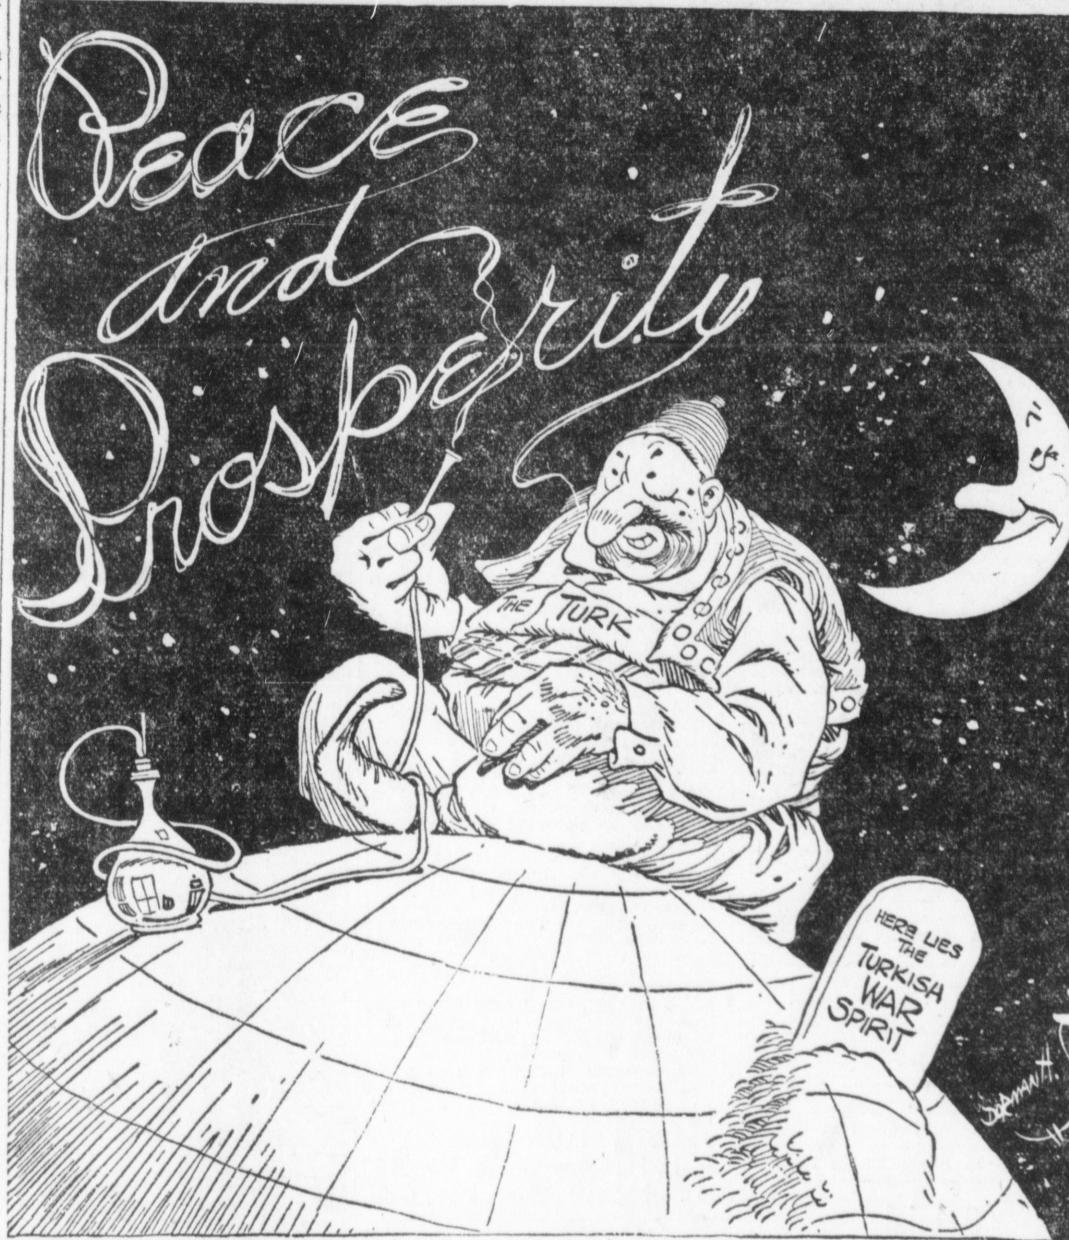

The Santa Ana contemporary is over-sensitive. Such institutions are necessary. They are a part of the state's duty to its citizens. It may be true that a prison is the least desirable, but at any time the state of California wishes to double the capacity of the State Hospital at Patton or establish another one here, it will find San Bernardino not only willing but glad to furnish the site where so much is accomplished for the unfortunate. We are not wishing that more people may become insane, but that more of the insane, through the ministrations of such institutions, may be restored to mental health. The Register is wholly mistaken in its notion that there is any comparison between a prison and a hospital.

For another reason, The Sun will be willing to see a southern state prison established. The time is coming, in California and in other states, when the ideas of penology will be considerably changed to follow the successful experiment tried out in Colorado, where both the prisoners and the state benefit by the honor system in vogue. They are going to do a lot of road building in California, but in the nature of things, more road work will be done in a close radius from the prison than far afield, and Southern California can afford to have many miles of state highway built by prison labor. We think, while we are on the subject, that we will make bold to say that San Bernardino county will take the prison that at least two other counties turn thumbs down for.

THE SILVER AGE

"We live in an age of iron and have all that we can do to keep the iron from entering our souls." So says John Burroughs in the posthumous book just published. This book of his last essays, called "Under the Maples" contains his wise and sweet philosophy at its best. The paragraph here quoted comes from the story of one of the camping holidays taken with Henry Ford, Thomas A. Edison and Henry S. Firestone. It continues:

"Our vast industries have their root in the geologic history of the globe as in no other past age. We delve for our power, and it is all barbarous and unsavory. When the coal and oil are all gone and we come to the surface and above the surface for the white coal, for the smokeless oil, for the winds and the sunshine, how much more attractive life will be! Our very minds ought to be cleaner. We may never hitch our wagons to the stars, but we can hitch them to the mountain streams, and make the summer breezes lift our burdens. Then the silver age will displace the iron age."

After Paved Highway

Riverside Press.

The following news article appears in the Redlands Facts and will be read with marked interest here because of its bearing on the Mecca to Blythe road and on the urgency for the paving of the Jack Rabbit Trail highway.

Governor Richardson has promised to come to Redlands and look over the stretch of unpaved road between Yucaipa boulevard and Beaumont, in company with some member of the State Highway Commission in response to the repeated appeals of all this section of the country that the gap of some half a dozen miles of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway be paved and the road between the Imperial Valley and Los Angeles made complete.

Acting for local interests which have been uniting in their efforts to secure this bit of paving, Paul W. Moore went to Los Angeles this morning and had an appointment with the governor to discuss the situation. Returning shortly after noon today Mr. Moore reported that while Governor Richardson said the matter lay entirely within the jurisdiction of the Highway Commission, he personally knew the road well, had been over it in rainy weather and dry weather, thinks it should be paved, and he volunteered that week after next he will come out with some member of the Highway Commission, look the road over and see what the situation is as to future work.

"People coming in from the east want the best and shortest highway," said the governor, "and they want one without heavy mountain grades. Your road answers to that description. Furthermore, there ought not to be any little gaps left in a cross-country road."

The Facts article suggests the following considerations.

If there is $150,000 or $200,000 of state highway funds available for the paving of the road from Beaumont to Yucaipa, what is the matter with spending the $300,000 on the Mecca-Blythe road which was specifically voted for that purpose?

The Press makes no criticism of Redlands for going after this improvement but it certainly seems strangely inconsistent to provide money for that project and at the same time claim that the money is not in sight for the Mecca-Blythe road. No specific allotment of money for the paving of the road from Beaumont to Yucaipa was made in the last bond issue and the old highway commission said that all they could do for that road until a new bond issue was voted was to grade it. The Mecca to Blythe project stands on a better basis because it was definitely listed in the list of improvements to be taken care of under the bond issue and the sum of $300,000 was allotted to it.

Redlands is just as much interested as Riverside in the improvement of the Sun Kist Trail route to the East for the auto travel that comes over when it reaches Beaumont has the choice of going to Redlands or to Riverside.

If it should develop that this Beaumont-to-Yucaipa road is to be paved by the state, then it is certainly up to Riveride county to work out a program for the complete paving of the road from Beaumont to the end of the present county pavement at the foot of the grade. At present both roads are unpaved for about the same distance; and Riverside and Redlands compete on equal terms for the through auto tourists from the East who enter the state by the Blythe-Ehrenberg ferr.

Once however one road is paved and the other is not, the city offering the paved route will get the big end of the travel.

Certainly it behoves Riverside county to watch developments in this matter vigilantly and to be prepared to make a vigorous demand for just treatment.

Employment Status Encouraging

Pasadena Star-News.

Employment, throughout the United States, is at high level, this midsummer season, according to report of the Federal Reserve Board. There is slight lull in manufacturing production. But this is to be expected because of the usual seasonal dullness. On the whole, the industrial status of the country is entirely satisfactory.

Employment is more satisfactory now than for a long, long time. Indeed, it is to be doubted if conditions ever were more favorable than now. The number of men involuntarily idle, the country over, is negligibly small. The number regularly employed at remunerative wages is gratifyingly large.

The economic history of this country since the Armistice has been checked. There were dark days, immediately following the close of the World War. But that crucial period was met with typical American courage. The rough seas were breasted securely. A period of the most acute distress, in which from 5,000,000 to 7,000,000 men were involuntarily idle, has passed. This country today is in the midst of industrial activity and of widespread prosperity. Involuntary idleness is practically nil.

DEFINING PROFANITY.

A man was arrested charged with beating a horse and swearing, and one of the witnesses was a pious old negro. "Did the defendant use improper language?" asked the lawyer. "Well, he did talk mighty loud, suh!" "Did he indulge in profanity?" The old darky seemed puzzled, so the lawyer put the question in another way. "What I mean, Uncle Abe, is, did he use words that would be proper for your minister to use in a sermon?" "Oh, yes, suh, suh," replied the old fellow with a broad grin, "but, o'course, dey'd have ter be 'ranged diff'runt."—Boston Transcript.

The Chewing Gum Habit

The people of the United States pay more than a million dollars a week for their chewing gum. And the "habit" is apparently a growing one, for the value turned out by the factories of the United States in the latest census year, 1921, is more than double that of the pre-war year, 1914, the first year in which the government dignified the industry by official statements of the amount turned out by the factories of the country.

This assertion that the people of the United States now pay more than a million dollars a week for their chewing gum and the "habit" began shortly after the opening of the war and grew very rapidly, since official statistics of exports, which only began with the year 1918, show an advance from less than 1 million dollars in 1916 to 2½ millions in 1920, while the value of the exports in 1923, though materially less than in 1920, are 40% greater than in 1922.

To dignified England the total exports of 1920 were approximately a million dollars, measured at the wholesale price at the port from which exported, and in 1918 the exports to Great Britain were $120,000. France took in 1920 $383,000 worth, and other European countries in proportionate quantities, though to Germany the exports was comparatively small, only $260 worth. That it is equally popular in the other side of the globe is evidenced by the fact that our total exports to Asia and Oceania amounted to nearly a half million dollars in value, including $288,000 worth to the Philippines, $75,000 to Japan, $42,000 to Australia, and $14,000 to India. South America also developed the habit and the total to that continent in 1920 was $275,000, while the sales in Africa were also large, the total to Egypt alone being nearly $100,000.

The amount of capital invested in the chewing gum industry as stated by the census reports was in 1919 $23,000,000 against only $10,000,000 in 1914.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

NATURE ALWAYS AHEAD OF OUR NEEDS

Did you ever stop to think of how Nature looks after you, keeping just a little bit ahead of your needs all the time?

The baby falls out of its carriage, landing on its head. Very little damage is done because the bones of the head are dove-tailed loosely together, and thus have plenty of space to take up the jar. And later in life the brain is encased in a heavy shell, an inner and an outer plate of bone with a spongy layer of bone between. Think of how the hard plates of bone are able to withstand the shocks because they have an actual cushion between them. Who thought that out? Who foresaw the jars and jolts that soft brain tissue would receive in this work-a-day and playday world?

The terrific blows in football and boxing illustrate this. A man is temporarily unconscious—knows nothing—because his brain has been shaken up. But because of the heavy bone structure with the cushion between as it were, he could get along even better if he could keep both feet off of the bottom instead of only one.

CHIROPRACTOR'S APPEAL

Orange County Jail, July 26.

Editor Register: Well, here I am in jail, since Tuesday morning, when I was taken like a criminal—taken from my offices without opportunity of notifying my patients or locking my door. Many people in Huntington Beach have paid me and as taxpayers they demand my service.

For a few moments Johnnie Green forgot that the hired man was a great joker.

"This bear," he announced stoutly, "is a valuable animal. He's worth too much to eat."

"Oh!" said the hired man. "You're going to sell him! How much do you want for him?"

"This bear is not for sale," Johnnie Green declared, as he held a turnip out to Cuffy Bear, who was tied to the dog kennel by a long chain.
